CITY TRUSTEES.

Meeting was called to order by Chairman Parcher, all members being present.

Request from C. D. Reynolds, for permission to construct walks and curbs on Third street between L street and Brand Boulevard was, on motion, granted.

Library Notes

The Glendale Free Library and Reading Room is open to the public from four to six o'clock daily, except Sundays.

Since April 18th, the room has been opened all day each day for the reception of supplies for the sufferers. Since that time the number of books loaned has perceptibly decreased.

Since last reported, books have been received from Mesdames Hunt and Pitcher and magazines from Mrs. Church, Mrs. Pitcher, Kenneth Barager and Oliver Emery.

Aside from the state traveling library of fifty volumes, the Tuesday Afternoon Club owns over seventy books which together with the state library makes a total of over one hundred and twenty books in circulation. There are eighty-three members using the library.

During April there were issued 128 books and 24 magazines. Of these 46 were fiction, 40 miscellaneous and 22 juvenile books. Dues to the amount of $1.20 were collected.

Parties having books or magazines out overtime will return, pay dues or pay for reading matter if lost. As the library is for the use of the public, it is necessary to make these charges to protect the library, and borrowers from the same. The time of keeping the library (No. 37) now in use expires this month; if the borrowers will state if they desire this renewed or wish another in its place the majority can be pleased.

The social and lecture given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church at I. O. F. Hall Thursday evening proved to be a most enjoyable affair. Several musical selections were rendered after which Rev. J. H. Avery gave his intensely interesting lecture "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Mr. Avery spoke for one and one-half hours and held his audience spellbound. At the conclusion of the lecture the ladies sold home made candies and lemonade, and the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse.

Petty Officialness

Owing to the fact that the City Clerk refused to allow a representative of this paper the privilege of reading over the minutes of Wednesday night's meeting of the City Trustees, and as said representative was unable to obtain a correct and full report of the proceedings on account of the injection of personal spite by the City Clerk on the night of the Board's last meeting, our report is necessarily brief and does not cover the proceedings fully.

For the welfare of the general public, it is to be hoped that this dictator of the affairs of this community may relent to that extent that he will allow the public to obtain information relating to matters which may be of vital importance to tax-payers.

Glendale-Alhambra

Saturday, April 20th, the long deferred basket-ball game with Alhambra came on. Alhambra might as well have taken her medicine at first like a good little girl for Glendale had lost none of her old time prowess. The opponents center was the most interesting feature of the game, and as a result Miss Smalley was a little busier than usual. One of the most phenomenal plays of the game was a long goal throw from the edge of the court by Alfa Stene. The final score was 15-9 in favor of Glendale. The home team lineup was the regular team with Miss Richardson as sub. Blanch Davenport umpired the game. Miss Warner and Miss Flood accompanied the team to Alhambra.

High School Plays Base Ball

Saturday last the Glendale High wielders of the stout stick met the Yale School aggregation on their own grounds in Los Angeles, the latter winning by the score of 12-8. The High School lads surprised even themselves by playing Yale a close game. No suitable grounds are to be had for practice and as a result the home team could expect very little from team work.

The Yale team played a superb fielding game but they didn't have an eye for the ball as it yassed over the plate. Stine and R. Bond proved a battery that couldn't be battered. Stine went in the box at the end of the fourth inning, the score being 12-1 and he did such effective work that Yale failed to score again. Ray Goode at short and Geo. Benson at Third played star games, and even Grandpa Hank who had never "viewed" a ball game before failed to miff the files. A return game will be played in the near future.

Eves & Wilkinson, Glendale's up-to-date plumbers, are experiencing a most deserved increase in business and have recently had to build an addition to their already large quarters. They purchased one bill of supplies last week which amounted to $3000. That is certainly "going some" for country plumbers.

Serious Accident.

Wm. Grover of Los Angeles, father of Prof. R. Frederick Grover of this city, met with a most serious accident on Wednesday morning. Mr. Grover, who is a painter, was at work on a large house and while trying to reach and paint the cornice, his ladder slipped from under him, causing him to fall, striking a pergola, going through same and onto the hard cement steps below, a fall of 28 feet. Had it not been that Mr. Grover struck the pergola, he would undoubtedly have been killed; as it is, he received serious injury. Prof. Grover and wife have gone to Los Angeles to be in attendance at the bedside of the injured man.

M. L. Bryan, of Columbus Ohio, is a recent arrival in Glendale and is stopping at Hotel Glendale. Mr. Bryan has a position with the Art Tile Works at Tropicco.

Mr. W. S. Traphagen, a Los Angeles business man, closed a deal with Grant & Andrews last Wednesday for a six room bungalow to be built on his lot on Louis street just north of Doran St. Before coming to Glendale Mr. Traphagen looked at property in several localities and thinks Glendale the chosen spot.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank I. Marsh most charmingly entertained a coterie of friends at their home, "Beth-Eden Ranch," Monday evening, to commemorate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The parlors were beautifully decorated in pink roses and silver-leaved foliage. The den was redolent with pink sweet peas arranged in jardiniere. Here punch was served, Miss Harriet Meyers presiding. The dining room was daintily festooned with ropes of smilax and quartettes of white roses. A buffet luncheon was served.

Mrs. Marsh was assisted by Meses. S. A. Ayres, H. A. Smith, William Malcolm, David H. Imler, John Hobbs and L. C. Rice.

This most delightful occasion was the anniversary of a more than ordinarily happy married life, which began in Vermont. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh came to Tropic in April, 1899, from Omaha, Neb.

Many were the expressions of good feeling toward the happy bride and groom concerning whose future there was no foreboding, but only the conviction in every heart that for those who follow in the light of love there is no sunset, but the glorious presence of an everlasting dawn.

The guests included Messrs. and Meses. David Bardwell, W. R. Light, Dutton, M. M. Eshelman, Osborne, C. C. Chandler, D. M. Stuart, F. C. Richardson, H. A. Smith, Joseph Marple, F. R. AMANDA C. BURCHMOTHER OF OSCAR G. BURCH DIED
MONDAY MORNING

Over 91 Years of Age and was Descendant of Levi Greene, Brother of a Famous General of Revolutionary War.

Mrs. Amanda C. Burch died at the home of her son, Oscar G. Burch at 9:15 Monday morning after a lingering illness of several weeks. She was 91 years, 4 months and 16 days old and had been in good health until about two years ago when she fell on the ice and broke a hip bone from which time she was confined to her bed. She was of a long-lived family. Her grandfather was Levi Greene, a Revolutionary patriot, and a brother of General Nathaniel Green, who won fame in the Revolutionary war as commander of the Green Mountain Boys of Vermont. Her grandfather lived to be 96 years of age.

She was born in Venice, Cayuga Co., N. Y., December 7, 1814, and was the eldest of a family of ten children of Orange Chapin and wife, Fanny. She had three brothers and six sisters, all of whom are now deceased. She was married January 19, 1832 to V. D. Burch, of Venice, New York. There were four children born of this union. The oldest died in infancy. Orange Emmons Burch died March 23rd, 1901, at his home in Williamsport, Pa. The other two sons survive and are Oscar G. Burch, cashier of the First National Bank of this city and N. C. Burch of Tropic, California, who was formerly editor of the State Journal of Jefferson City.

Mrs. Burch was a member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral will be conducted Tuesday afternoon by Dr. J. F. Hendy, and will be private.—Jefferson City Tribune.

G. A. R. Hall Home for Refugees

Through the efforts of the Woman's Relief Corps and citizens of the valley, G. A. R. Hall has been converted into a comfortable home for the temporary sojourn of twelve of the San Francisco refugees. Curtains have been so arranged as to provide sleeping apartments, which have been fitted with good comfortable beds. Clothing has been most generously donated, while the larder is full to overflowing with not only the necessities of life, but with an abundance of luxuries of all kinds. Work has been provided five of these unfortunates, and three of the children are attending school. These homeless people lost their all in the conflagration which swept over San Francisco after the earthquake, and are eager to embrace every opportunity that will enable them to retrieve their lost savings, that represented years of hard toil. The party consists of two families, Germans, the mother of either family being sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Nielsen, their children, Milton, Freddie and Helen, and eldest daughter, Mrs. Wilma Meehan and little son St. Francis Meehan.

Mrs. Julia Beyer, two little daughters, Annie and Emma, and son Carl Stahmer; also Harry Petersen. Eugene Meehan, husband of Mrs. Wilma Nielsen Meehan, is among the missing, also Julius Beyer, husband of Mrs. Julia Beyer.

Every effort is being made to locate these men, a number of letters having been sent to San Francisco and Oakland.

The hearts of this band of refugees at the hall were bounding with happiness Monday evening when a letter was received from the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen, who was supposed to be lost, but who, with his young wife, escaped to Oakland.

Hope was also revived, as they now believe they will hear good news from Mr. Julius Beyer and Eugene Meehan.

Dr. A. L. Bryant, of Glendale; Dr. A. O. Conrad and J. Oscar Garmon, of Tropic, have very generously offered their medical services gratuitously to these people. The Relief Committee commends the kindness of these noble professional men very highly, as well as appreciate any act of charity or kindness that is shown these unfortunate ones.

Busy Club Ladies

The ladies of the Thursday Afternoon Club held an all-day meeting at the residence of Mrs. J. Arthur Logan, president of the club, at which time one hundred and twenty infants' garments were made. These garments were taken to Los Angeles early Friday morning and there placed in a box for San Jose, a request having been received for garments for infants.

"How far the little candle sheds its light, so shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis served the luncheon for the ladies at her home, while they were engaged in sewing.

Noble Work

Mrs. Alfred Randolph, of Oak Drive assisted by her sister, Mrs. August Randolph collected over eighty pounds of bread which they sent to the San Francisco sufferers. They also made a number of boys' waists, placing a small purse containing pennies in a neat little pocket on each garment. Several girls' dresses were also made by these ladies which with the boys' waists were sent to the San Jose unfortunates.

Class Entertains

The class of Mr. S. G. Biddle of the Presbyterian Sunday School entertained a number of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Malcom Tuesday evening last.

The spacious dining room and parlor were abloom with carnations and roses the perfume of which scented the entire house.

Numerous games were played, but the favorite game of "spoons" proved to be the most exciting of the evening, the side captained by Jay Rice winning out in three straight games.

During the evening Willie Malcom favored the guests with several selections on the phonograph. Miss Evalena Ayers very sweetly rendered several vocal solos while Messrs. Rice, Schen and Marple favored the company with several vocal numbers.

At a late hour dainty refreshments consisting of ice-cream and cake were served.

Before departing the guests expressed to the members of the class their appreciation of the pleasant time which had been provided for them.

The young folks present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. William Malcom, Misses Teresa and Phebe Snell, Pearl Sears, Myrtle Harrison, Evalena Ayers, Madeline Malcom, Burnett, and Robison. Messrs. John Kirkham, Guy Maxwell, Archie Harrison, Jay Rice, Willie Malcom, Albert Marple and Schen.

The regular meeting of N. P. Banks Relief Corps will be held at the residence of Mrs. D. H. Imler on Park Ave., Friday, May 11th, at 2.30 p. m. instead of at G. A. R. Hall.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Dr. Hatch, field secretary for Occidental College was a visitor at the High School Tuesday.

Great excitement prevailed among the Seniors Monday because of the profuse display of Junior colors. It is some to say that some of the colors were at half mast when the end came.

Miss Edith Warner, of Brooklyn N. Y. visited the Latin and German classes Thursday afternoon.

Prof. Moyle will go to Orange Saturday evening to act as judge in the Orange county High School Oratorical contest to be held at that place.

Miss Una Russell has issued invitations for a reception to be held at her home on East Third street Saturday evening, May 5th.

The students of the High School have been quite troubled the past week. Miss Flood and Mr. Tower came to school Monday with their faces badly sunburned and the students have been working overtime to ascertain the cause. Perhaps it was caused by over-study, or it may have happened when they were making a canvas for the San Francisco sufferers. Who said it happened at the beach?

C. E. Lapham, who has been staying at F. M. Beers' for the past few months, has returned to his home in Chicago.

Grand, Beautiful Valley

We wonder how many people in Los Angeles county, and more especially those people of the county who reside in Glendale, know of the marvelous beauty and grandeur of the scenery of this matchless valley—the San Fernando Valley.

It was the delightful privilege of the writer on Wednesday last, in company with D. M. Hackman, to drive through the valley from Eagle Rock Valley on the east to the residence of L. C. Brand on the west, and many of the viewpoints lying between these two places were visited and the views obtained of both valley and mountain was a sight most impressive, and the most beautiful, we believe, to be seen in the state, outside the Yosemite Valley. A most excellent view of the valley was obtained from the hills bounding Sycamore Canon, and those on Verdugo Road, just south of Ninth street, where one can look over beautiful Glendale and Tropic, and on up the valley over Burbank and Toluca; and had the day been clear, on to Toluca and as far as San Fernando and Chatsworth. These viewpoints were most excellent, but the views obtained from Ard Elvin, the residence of Dan Campbell, and Miradero, the home of L. C. Brand, were more complete, in that we could see over Glendale to Eagle Rock Valley and over Tropic to Elysian Park on the east and southeast and over Burbank right into the mouth of the Chatsworth tunnel to the west.

Few of our residents imagine the extent and grandeur of this beautiful valley, and to those of our citizens who are under the impression that they are living in a small valley of only a few miles' extent, we suggest that they take the time to visit the points previously mentioned, and after they have visited these points and obtained views of the valley, we would be glad to have them communicate with this paper for publication the impressions obtained by them.

One of the novel sights of this trip was gained by a visit to the Glendale Hot House Co.'s hot houses, which are located three-quarters of a mile west of the Glendale and Los Angeles Inter-urban Electric Railway Co.'s terminus at beautiful Casa Verdugo, North Glendale. Here we found three large glass hot houses 20x100 feet and inside the houses are growing cucumbers, tomatoes and egg plants. The writer has visited many hot houses where flowers are grown and been impressed with the delicate beauty of the plants and blossoms, but the sight that we were permitted to view inside those hot house vegetable producers was most wonderful, for here was a combination of the beautiful and, shall we say, the necessary? The cucumber vines were growing vigorously and were loaded with a crop of cucumbers and blossoms, the cucumbers varying in length from one to eight inches. The tomato and egg plants were also in full bearing, with both green and ripe vegetables on them. The gardener in charge informed the writer that they received from $1.50 to $2.25 per dozen for cucumbers, wholesale; 40 cents per pound for egg plants and 15 cents per pound for tomatoes. Judging from the crops that we saw, it is our opinion that Rockefeller is not the only man that has an easy way of making money. There was only one disappointing feature in visiting the hot houses, and that was because we were not allowed to pick and eat any of the vegetables.

The improvements that are being made along Brand Boulevard and in North Glendale are enough to convince any one that that section is destined to become a second Pasadena, for the property owners are spending thousands of dollars to improve their property, and though building is not going ahead at a very great rate just now, it is only a matter of a short time until these grand and beautiful improvements, with the natural beauty of location, will attract a desirable class of homeseekers. Between Fourth and Casa Verdugo, on the west side of Brand Boulevard, there are miles of sidewalks and curbs and many of the streets are graded and oiled. Mr. Brand, the Erkenbrecher Syndicate, the Pioneer Investment Co., Messrs. Holman & Campbell, Mr. Oliver, and others who have subdivided property along or near Brand Boulevard, as well as Mr. McIntyre and others who have subdivided and improved and beautified property along Glendale avenue, deserve great credit for their enterprise, and owners of large tracts and small places should take a lesson from these gentlemen and go to work and improve their own holdings.

GLENDALE

To a person accustomed to and appreciating the advantages of the city, but who prefers a life in the country for considerations of health, pleasure or profit, the ideal location for a home is found in a pleasant country neighborhood within a few minutes' ride of the city.

This close association of city and country gives to property in the suburbs of a large and rapidly growing city a value which is difficult to estimate in dollars and cents. It is a consideration which appeals forcibly alike to the home-seeker who is fortunately above the necessity of taking into account the question of a financially profitable investment; to the tiller of the soil, who must necessarily figure upon the associated ideas of a productive soil, favorable climatic conditions, and a near-by market; and finally to the investor looking with speculative eye upon the promise made by a particular locality in regard to the probable increase of values in the near future.

To all of the above classes, GLENDALE appeals with peculiar force given by its unique merits and varied attractions. In an air line it is six miles from the business center of Los Angeles, and about three miles from the northern boundary of that city.

RAILROADS

The Glendale branch of the Salt Lake Railroad Company, starting from its depot on First street, passes through East Los Angeles, along the base of the low hills on the northern limits of the city paralleling the line of the Southern Pacific road until it reaches Glendale avenue at its junction with the San Fernando road, where it proceeds northward through Glendale to its present terminus, Verdugo Park.

The Huntington Electric Railway system has recently completed a double-track line connecting Los Angeles and Glendale, first class in its construction, equipment and service, following a route which for scenic beauty is probably unequalled by any ride of similar length in Southern California.

Branch Office, Fourth and Brand Blvd., Glendale, and all real estate agents

The following letter has been received by E. A. Turner of this city from his brother in San Francisco:

San Francisco, Cal., April 23, 1906.
DEAR BROTHER ED.—Yours of the 19th in hand. I answered by postal immediately, and write this later. I will say first that I was not burned out—office and house in section saved from fire. Out of about one hundred printing offices in this city, only four were saved, mine being one of them, and mine was the only one which could be put in condition to do work in one day. Oh, Ed, we have had and are still having an awful, awful, awful experience, and yet we are among the most favored and fortunate people in this terribly broken and burned city. The home papers will never reveal a tithe of the horrors, for they do not wish to frighten capitalists, and the world at large. I cannot begin to describe the terrifying sensation of the real earthquake, perhaps you got a good taste of it down there. We were tossed along with everything in the house for at least thirty seconds, while falling glassware, bric-a-brac, falling chimneys, brick walls and frame buildings, combined with the awful rumbling of the earth created the awful sensation I sincerely hope I never will again have to endure. The number of lives lost will probably never be known; but must have been a thousand—perhaps two. The cries of the doomed who were not killed outright were heart-rending. The fire burned over 26 square miles—the entire business portion of this once great and splendid city, the suburbs remaining. Our two boys were burned out of home and business. My office being the only one ready to do business, was taken possession of by the federal and city authorities, and I was ordered to do their work, to the exclusion of all other. If I am able to sell when things are righted, I shall gladly go anywhere. We have more or less severe shocks yet—we have had them for a year or more. This was the greatest calamity that ever befell a proud and prosperous people—perhaps the wickedest city on earth. We are seasick, and quiver and fear yet—all unstrung as they say. It is believed that over 25,000 buildings were destroyed by fire and the quake combined. This is the first evening we have been allowed even a tallow dip for a light, and have to do our cooking in the street. The soldiers patrol the streets, night and day, and at least fifty people who came in conflict with martial authority have been shot to death. There is nothing in the way of food for sale. To eat we must get into the bread line and wait an hour perhaps for our turn to be served. I happened to have a few dollars in my pocket when the crash came, so I am not penniless. Send this letter around the circle; I have not written our sisters. Mail service was suspended for several days.
Love to all,
HENRY.
